

Accessibility Statement for ResilienceDirect Maps

This accessibility statement applies to maps.resilience.gov.uk/maps.

This website is run by the Cabinet Office. We want as many people as possible to be able to use this website. For example, that means you should be able to:

- change colours, contrast levels and fonts using browser or device settings
- zoom in up to 400% without the text spilling off the screen
- navigate most of the website using a keyboard or speech recognition software
- listen to most of the website using a screen reader (including the most recent versions of JAWS, NVDA and VoiceOver)

We've also made the website text as simple as possible to understand.

AbilityNet has advice on making your device easier to use if you have a disability.

How accessible this website is

Interactive maps are exempt from the accessibility regulations and the mapping functionality on this site will be difficult to use to its full extent for many people who use assistive technologies.

However, we want to make sure the navigation and administration screens on this website are as accessible as possible and have made a series of improvements which were deployed in February 2025.

Feedback and contact information

If you find any problems not listed on this page or think we're not meeting accessibility requirements, or if you need information on this website in a different format like accessible PDF, large print, easy read, audio recording or braille:

please contact the ResilienceDirect team via email at resiliencedirect@cabinetoffice.gov.uk

We'll consider your request and get back to you in 7 days.
